Tips for First-Time Car Buyers

With the year's end quickly approaching, first-time car buyers would be apt to take advantage of holiday deals. Kelley Blue Book experts recommend the following tips to ensure a smooth car buying process:

- Establish a realistic budget and know what you can spend monthly. Look at your cost of living in all core areas, like shelter, food and health insurance, and other bills. Once those are calculated, determine an amount that you can spend on a car payment, fuel, and car insurance. Also keep in mind your level of indebtedness in comparison to other assets.
- Do your research. Visit KBB.com for the latest and greatest reviews of new cars and their late-model alternatives.
- Locate a convenient dealer. When weighing a couple of choices, compare dealer locations, and if all other things are equal, showroom environments.
- Determine the proper purchase price. The Kelley Blue Book Fair Purchase Price gives you an accurate idea of what people have recently paid in your area for the car you are interested in.
- Secure financing, or know your options. When determining the best financing option, be sure to measure the cost of financing against the price of the car. And while you're at it, save yourself the added extra costs in fees and paperwork time by researching companies like LightStream, the online lending division of SunTrust Bank, where good credit can land you a personal loan at fixed, competitive rates without fees.
