Kelley Blue Book

Built in partnership with Janela Digital, a leading supplier of technological solutions, KBB.PT is a completely re-envisioned web-based consumer and valuation platform. KBB.PT was created in collaboration with our partners in Portugal, who worked alongside our specialists in the United States, including data scientists, web designers and other in-house experts. Kelley Blue Book will seek to replicate the consumer and valuations platform as it expands into other markets.

Visitors to KBB.PT will have free access to trade-in, private party, used-car retail and new-car retail pricing. Specifically for the automotive industry, Kelley Blue Book® Auction Values also will be available in an industry-facing software product coming to the Portugal market.

"Intended to address the need for a more sophisticated vehicle valuation solution in most markets around the globe – both from an industry and consumer perspective – we built a new multi-currency, multi-language vehicle valuation engine that can be adapted to other international markets," said Nuno Castel Branco, business development director at Cox Automotive, parent company of Kelley Blue Book. "We expect the development and architecture behind the new Kelley Blue Book Portugal platform to increase operational efficiencies when we launch in other territories."

For KBB.PT, Kelley Blue Book also partnered with Auto SAPO, a leading provider of automotive classified listings in Portugal, which will help provide classified pricing data in Portugal, one of a variety of data inputs used to fuel the valuations engine.

"For SAPO it is of utmost importance to partner with Kelley Blue Book, a leader in vehicle valuation and automotive research," said Filipa Martins, director of SAPO. "SAPO's partnership with Kelley Blue Book strengthens the offerings to the automotive industry in Portugal. Kelley Blue Book provides vehicle values, a needed service in the market, to help bring consumers and dealers closer together. Kelley Blue Book also provides vehicle research, news and advice, and information about auto shows through our dedicated area of the SAPO website, Motores, where users can navigate through the articles, as well as offers to sell or purchase a vehicle."

In addition, Kelley Blue Book Portugal will offer auto intenders and enthusiasts with an array of content developed by the newly formed KBB.PT Editorial Team, which has been working closely with KBB.com's award-winning editorial experts.
