

All-New Multi-Point Marketing Campaign Encourages Dealers to “Get Results Out of the Blue”

Build Brand Awareness, Help Drive Dealership Traffic and Reduce Sales Friction with Products, Services from Kelley Blue Book

IRVINE, Calif., April 20, 2016 – With 68 percent of in-market shoppers planning to purchase within the next two months, Kelley Blue Book, the vehicle valuation and information source trusted and relied upon by both consumers and the automotive industry, offers a powerful in-market audience that can allow dealer and OEM clients to reach highly engaged buyers. Kelley Blue Book’s storied history also makes it the most influential site for shoppers choosing a dealership, which helps our clients “Get Results Out of the Blue.”

With this in mind, the 90-year-old brand has launched its all-new multi-point “Out of the Blue” marketing campaign directed at franchise and independent dealer audiences. The campaign brings to life how Kelley Blue Book is shifting from a marketplace to matchmaker strategy, bringing the right buyers to the right dealership through an experience and purchase that all parties can feel good about. The marketing campaign will include print media, display advertising, retargeting and pre-roll video, expected to reach 90 percent of franchise and 25 percent of independent dealers.

“By associating with Kelley Blue Book and its brand and benefiting from KBB.com’s competitive traffic levels of in-market shoppers and strong pedigree within the industry, Kelley Blue Book helps dealerships achieve their respective goals,” said Jessica Stafford, vice president of marketing at Kelley Blue Book’s parent company Cox Automotive. “The company’s all-new campaign supports that mission by building awareness and perception among dealers that the Kelley Blue Book brand and its products are highly relevant and necessary to reduce friction in the car-buying process.”

In addition to an existing robust portfolio of products, including New and Used Car Fusion classified listings, Dealer Showcase ads, LeadDriver™ and more, the company also has launched the Kelley Blue BookSM Instant Cash Offer and the Used Car Highlight module:

Instant Cash Offer: Last year, Kelley Blue Book provided nearly 100 million trade-in values to car shoppers. Now car shoppers can quickly and easily see how their Instant Cash Offer aligns with the trusted Kelley Blue Book Trade-In Range with the integration of the Kelley Blue Book® Price Advisor. The Price Advisor helps boost confidence that shoppers are getting a fair value when redeeming an Instant Cash offer on their current vehicle.

Used Car Highlight: Dealers receive a unique opportunity to make an immediate connection with in-market shoppers using Used Car Highlight. As consumers receive a value for their configured used vehicle, this widget matches the most relevant replacement vehicle from local participating dealers to the consumer search criteria.
