Strong consumer perception of the Outback and Forester helped drive Subaru's success in earning the top honor among all automakers. In addition to its Best Overall Brand win, this year Subaru once again claimed Most Trusted Brand and Best Performance Brand for 2016, after winning both accolades last year in 2015.

For 2016, Lexus captured the Best Overall Luxury Brand title from last year's winner Porsche by obtaining the top average Brand Watch factor scores among all luxury makes and being highly regarded with its strong lineup, driven primarily by its popular ES and RX models. In addition, Lexus reclaimed its Most Trusted Luxury Brand award for 2016, after Mercedes-Benz won the award last year in 2015. Lexus also previously won Most Trusted Luxury Brand in 2013 – 2014.

Claiming the top spot among truck shoppers for the third year in a row, Ford won the Best Overall Truck Brand category. Ford has won seven out of the eight times Kelley Blue Book has announced this award, with only Toyota outranking them in 2013. The F-150 helped the manufacturer earn the award for 2016, as truck shoppers ranked the brand highest among all other truck brands.

Among non-luxury automakers, Honda once again won Best Value Brand for 2016, after previously winning the award in 2015, as well as from 2011 – 2013. Chrysler won 2016 Best Car Styling Brand, driven by the 300. Benefiting from its upscale Denali trim models, GMC won its third Brand Image Award in a row as this year's Most Refined Brand, with high ratings for comfort, interior layout, technology and prestige/sophistication.

Meanwhile, among luxury automakers, Porsche held on to its Best Performance Luxury Brand award for the sixth year on the strength of above-average ratings for its entire lineup. Jaguar won Best Car Styling Luxury Brand for 2016, after previously winning the award in 2014. Mercedes-Benz once again reclaimed the Most Refined Luxury Brand award, after previously winning the award from 2013 – 2014. Mercedes-Benz has won a Brand Image Award every year since the inception of the program in 2008. Buick now is a four-time repeat winner for the Best Value Luxury Brand (winning the award 2013 – 2016), and the manufacturer's entire lineup has positively influenced car shoppers' perceptions.
