

New-Car Transaction Prices Jump More Than 3 Percent Year-Over-Year In May 2016, According To Kelley Blue Book

Domestic Automakers Show Greatest Strength on Trucks, Utilities; Toyota, Volkswagen Among Best-Performing Import Brands

IRVINE, Calif., June 1, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- The analysts at Kelley Blue Book www.kbb.com, the vehicle valuation and information source trusted and relied upon by both consumers and the automotive industry, today report the estimated average transaction price (ATP) for light vehicles in the United States was $33,845 in May 2016. New-car prices have increased by $1,139 (up 3.5 percent) from May 2015, while decreasing $116 (down 0.3 percent) from last month.

"Continuously growing demand for SUVs and trucks helped push overall average transaction prices up this month," said Tim Fleming, analyst for Kelley Blue Book. "The overall share of light trucks in May 2016 should be around 60 percent, up from 55 percent in May 2015. The Detroit automakers are benefitting most from this trend, as their transaction prices are up between 4-6 percent. Manufacturers focusing on car-heavy lineups are still seeing year-over-year strength, but at a much more modest level."
