CDMdata, a Kelley Blue Book Company, Launches Dealer Solution for Effectively Competing in Marketplace

IRVINE, Calif., July 21 /PRNewswire/ -- CDMdata, Inc., a Kelley Blue Book company, today announces its all-new Market Pricing tool, available through AutoOffice®, CDMdata's Web-based automotive management tool. Market Pricing helps dealerships understand how their used-car pricing compares to local sellers and the overall market. This information provides a snapshot of other vehicle listings and creates an opportunity to better leverage Kelley Blue Book® Values to price inventory. This cost effective solution offers a simple way to make necessary pricing adjustments as the market shifts.

Market Pricing assembles local retail prices of other similar and exact vehicles selling in the current marketplace, within a 300 mile radius, in one simple-to-read report. The dealership can then quickly evaluate and determine pricing based on the competition. With this information, dealers can make strategic changes in pricing to be in line with the market to increase the number of leads received, ultimately improving turn rate and maximizing sales.

"Identifying the competition, especially in the current economy, is pivotal to making tactical business decisions. Dealers need to know where they stand and what it is they need to do to make a sale over the other guy," said Mike Romano, chief operating officer for CDMdata, Inc., and senior vice president of dealer strategy for Kelley Blue Book. "Market Pricing is a comprehensive tool for dealerships looking to competitively price their inventory."

In addition, Market Pricing offers selectable parameters for easy access to the information the dealer wants to see. View a list of matches by trim, model, and similar unpriced vehicles, choose the search radius, select the vehicle mileage to compare within, search all vehicle matches or just certified matches, and even check out the competing ad for additional details like vehicle features.
